Combined with the Roma Sur♥♥♥♥♥♥ MOD, it makes for a perfect TW experience.. 10/10 worth it for the boss fight at the end where you throw henchmen off a building at the final boss... hilarious.. Crash force is a very nice game with very good graphics and a very good story as it makes you decide which craft you want based on its abilities. It is a game that you dont get bored easily as there are a lot of extra things to unlock and it is multiplayer although there are not a lot of players playing this game. At all it is a very good game but there are some bugs that should be fixed. I strongly recommend it if you want to play with friends. First impressions are absurdly positive. I'm really impressed with this one. There's so much stuff in this game, and it's all so well presented and well put together.

This really feels like a whole new level of grand strategy games, setting the bar higher than ever.. A bit of a let down, personally. I heard great things about the cool, DOTA inspired modes, but that stuff doesn't seem to really have much effect on the actual game. The action isn't as tight as TF2, and the turrets just seem sort of useless. Not a horrible game, but I wouldn't pay $15 bucks for it if I hadn't already.

Might be worth it when it's on sale for $5.. A very simple and unique concept tower defense game where you defend against the creeper. It is unique because the creeper is not units but rather a force that flows over the map like a liquid. It teaches you to strategize in a unique way because of this. It is obviously hard to explain and I will cease to attempt to. Despite it being somewhat dated I highly recommend this game. This game has infinite replayability with maps that are connected to dates in time. While it can get repetitive, I find myself coming back to play this game even with all the other stuff I could play. 9/10

Only versus mode is fine. You can play this game against a friend on same keyboard in split screen. I didn't like other modes. The game doesn't support multiplayer.. Started out as a funny concept but hasn't received one update since launching on steam whilst the dev moved on to work on other games and jump on the battle royale band wagon (Last Man Sitting).. This game has very good story. The story line is unexpected. I cried watching the ending ... T_T. F1 cars look and feel fantastico. The feel way more so than the F1 franchise games. One nitpick: the fingers move for gear change but not thunms for DRS button etc.. Ok.. i did'nt want to do this but i've tried contacting the dev's and they do not seem to care. At its current state do not buy this game. Its unplayable. As soon as i open a door i get clipped into the floor and cannot move. I've tweeted the dev's and explained the problem but had no response and still no patch. Fix the problem and i'll fix the post.. Fun and fast gameplay....I'm totally enjoying it. crap game 1 frame per second. Really brings back that Bomberman feel, and it does it pretty well. It's a fun game, will get a little repetitive after a while, but that was to be expected. Not a lot of content. The Maps are all pretty much the same, and there aren't very many either. It's a fun game to play every now and then for a break from your other games.. DO NOT BUY, The game is obviously not finished and apparently has been abandoned by the devs.

My issues:

Game will crash and freeze your pc (im on windows 10)

People dont run away when you are killing everyone

Alot of the drugs are pointless got my purchase refunded.
